HELP KEEP UP PRICE OF TENNESSEE HOGS

UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION DOING ITS UTMOST TO MAINTAIN RATE.

BE MODERATE IN MARKETING

Dr. H. A. Morgan, Federal Food Administrator of Tennessee, Earnestly Appeals to the Farmers Not To Hurry Shipments—Keep Off the Market Immature Porkers.

Nashville.—Every effort is being made by the United States Food Administration to stabilize the prices for hogs. An agreement was recently entered into between the food administration and the leading packers, under which a guarantee of $17.50 for hogs, except culls or throw outs, during the present month at the Chicago market, was pledged. However, in order to obtain this guarantee there must be cooperation between the producers and the packers and food administration. If hogs are rushed to market as they were during the past month it is feared that this guarantee cannot be maintained.

In October at seven principal markets the hog receipts were twenty-seven per cent more than they were during the same month of the previous year. Such an increase during November, it is feared, would make it impossible to maintain the guarantee. But the packers can absorb an increase of fifteen per cent. Hence Dr. H. A. Morgan, the federal food administrator of Tennessee, earnestly appeals to the farmers of this state to market their hogs during the month in moderation and to keep off the market the thousands of immature porkers that were sent to the market during the past month. If this is done the food administration indulges the hope that top hogs will realize close to $18 during the month on the Chicago market, which should return the Tennessee producers in the neighborhood of $17. The food administration is enabled to make this guarantee because of the enormous purchasing power that is concentrated in it. Never in the history of the world did any single institution have the enormous purchasing power that is concentrated in the United States Food Administration which buys for the armies, navies of this country and the allies, but also makes enormous purchases for the civilian populations of the nations that are allied with us. The demand for pork for export during November will be greater than during October, but if there is another wild rush of hogs to market as there was in the past month the increase will not be sufficient to absorb the flood of hogs.

Increased Sugar Ration.
During November and December the sugar ration for ordinary domestic uses will be three pounds per person per month instead of two pounds, which has been the allotment during the past three months. The people generally responded magnificently to the call for sugar conservation, and there was in consequence an enormous saving. This saving has enabled the food administration to increase the allowance. Hotels will also share in the larger allowance, as they will be allowed three pounds for each ninety meals served. Hereafter hotels can serve a level teaspoon of sugar with the coffee and another with the cereal or fruit, but they cannot serve a spoon with both cereal and fruit. No hotel may serve to any guest at one meal more than one-half ounce of sugar at any one meal.

Mill Feed Pledge.
Reports are coming to the Federal Food Administration that in some counties the mill feed pledge is not being required by millers and dealers in mill feed. Violators of this regulation will be prosecuted, as this pledge is absolutely necessary in order to conserve mill feed for dairy cattle, young hogs and poultry and the use of it for other purposes is absolutely unauthorized. As a result of the pledge the mill feed situation in some sections has decidedly improved.

Stomach Trouble

"Before I used Chamberlain's Tablets I suffered a great deal for stomach trouble and felt nervous and tired all the time. These tablets helped me from the first, and inside of a week's time I had improved in every way," writes Mrs. L. A. Drinkard, Jefferson City, Mo.

Pay the Thrift Stamp and Loan Bond Pledge

Last summer we had thruout this entire country a Thrift Stamp drive when each citizen was called upon to go his limit in buying Thrift Stamps to help the Government meet the expenses of the great war then being waged. Our boys were at the front spilling the life's blood for the cause and we felt we had a part as important in putting up the cash to pay the expenses. Subscriptions were liberal, most men did their full duty in subscribing but the day of redemption has come and many are the delinquents the Government says. These delinquents seem to feel that the war is over and money is no longer needed, but it is a fact that the money for these stamps has already been spent for guns, ammunition, food, ships, airplanes and a thousand other needs for winning the war. The authorities at Washington took your word for it that when your crop was harvested and sold you would pay your subscription, and the banks have lent money to the Government and now is pay day and the Government is prompt to pay and they ask you to be the same. December 11 is set as the day and all subscribers are urged to pay then.

Liberty Loan Bond subscriptions are in very much the same fix. Subscriptions were liberal and now pay day has come. The bonds are in the hands of your bank and you are expected to pay your cash and meet the subscription. And yet other loans are coming. There is need yet for money, billions of it and plans are being made to sell more bonds and the public will be asked to buy again as in the past year. For the boys on the other side must be brought home and they must be clothed and fed and paid until they can be brought home and it takes money for these things. The war is over but we have yet to meet the payments on the expense bill and we must do it just as gladly as we subscribed when the campaigns in France and Belgium were hottest and turning our way.

City Water System Tank Collapses

Last Thursday afternoon about 5:30 the large tank which supplies this city with water collapsed, the hoops which held it together giving way under the immense pressure of the water in the tank.

This tank was erected when the present water system was installed some twenty years ago and with some repairs has stood all these years. The commissioners knew the hoops were weak and had recently ordered new ones and the new ones had arrived and were only awaiting workmen to put them on, to continue the life of the tank for more years to come when the old ones gave way under their load.

The commissioners at once took up with tank builders the erection of a new tank and secured prices, etc. The city fathers held a meeting and appointed W. S. Latta, C. A. Oliver and J. L. Sanders as a committee to make full investigations into the matter of erecting a new tank and report back to the city commissioners. A new cypress tank will cost around $2,000 to erect, while a metal one will cost about double that amount. The committee is making its investigations as rapidly as it can, and in the meantime water consumers are being furnished from the plant in very much their usual supply, the pump being kept going more hours than is the custom and the large pipe which filled the tank being kept filled at all times. It will be four or eight weeks before a new tank can be built.

Mrs. Isley's Letter

In a recent letter Mrs. D. W. Isley of Litchfield, Ill., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and as a laxative, and have found them a quick relief." If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation these tablets will do you good."

HOME GARDEN SHOULD PRODUCE SURPLUS FOR WINTER STORAGE

Boys Gathering the Product of Their Work, and They Are Pleased.

A half-acre garden, if cared for properly, will produce far more vegetables than the average family can consume during the maturing period of the crops. Only a small portion of a garden of this size should be devoted to those vegetables that must be used as soon as they reach maturity. It is advisable to devote the major portion of the space to those crops which if not needed at once may be kept for winter use. In fact, if the space is available the garden should be planned with the definite purpose of growing crops for storage for winter use.

Late beets, late cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, parsnips, late potatoes, sweet potatoes, salsify, and late turnips may be stored in their natural condition and if possible should be grown to the extent of the family needs for storage for winter use.

Work Garden All Season.

It is possible in nearly all sections of the country to grow late beets, late cabbage, late potatoes and turnips on ground that has already produced a crop of lettuce, radishes, beans, early peas, early potatoes, or some crop requiring a relatively short period for its maturity. Gardeners are inclined to neglect the opportunities for crop production in the garden after the first of the season has passed and frequently space is allowed to lie idle that should be producing a crop of late potatoes, cabbage or turnips. In sections where the season is short it is possible to plant the late crops between the rows of early crops before the early crops are removed, thus gaining two or three weeks' time.

Late potatoes may be planted on ground from which early peas or string beans have been removed.

Late cabbage may be planted between the rows of early potatoes before this crop is mature. Turnips may be sown between the rows of late corn and late bush beans. Late beets may be planted between the rows of late beans and will grow long after frost has killed the beans.

Storage in the Home.

By utilizing every square foot of space in the garden a considerable quantity of vegetables may be grown for storage for winter use. If no storage facilities exist in the home all the crops suitable for keeping may be stored in outdoor banks or pits. However, it is not at all difficult to provide storage facilities in most homes, it being only necessary to make use of the cellar, the attic, a large closet, or other parts of the dwelling, depending upon the character of the product to be stored.

Beans, including the Limas, may be stored dry, and it is advisable to grow them to as great an extent as possible for winter use. Limas and other pole beans may be planted around the fence, it being possible in this way to produce considerable quantities of dried beans for winter use. The pods should be allowed to remain on the vines until dry enough to rattle, should then be gathered, spread on the attic floor or in some other dry place, and when dry, shelled and stored in bags.

Circuit Court

The Circuit Court, session last week was a rather uneventful one. Judge Baptist was confined to his room with influenza and not able to be here, his place on the bench being taken by Hon. L. E. Gwynn, of Covington. The grand jury was active for several days of the week and returned a goodly number of true bills. The court and attorneys agreed to continuances in a majority of the cases on the criminal docket, a number of pleas of guilty were entered and penalties assessed, and a few cases were tried. The following criminal cases were disposed of with the results as stated:

John Alexander, larceny, 30 days.
Wm. Stafford and Major Whittemore, taking horse for temporary use, $25.00 each.

John Williamson, violating liquor law, acquitted.

Joel Haynes, transporting liquor, $50 fine.

Lillian Lacy Whitmore, transporting liquor, $50 and 10 days.

Eddie Fields, transporting liquor, $50 and 30 days.

Mary Ellen Seay, transporting liquor, $50 and 30 days.

George Price, transporting liquor, $50 and 30 days.

John Williams, transporting liquor, $50.

R. A. Berryman, William Gordon or Gargin and Sam Gold, captured between here and Moscow some time ago while en route from Paducah to Memphis with 100 cases of liquor, forfeited their bonds of $1,000 each by not appearing to answer their commitments against them.

Those Who Wrongfully Receive Allotments

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 4:—The Bureau of War Risk Insurance has asked the State Council of National Defense to continue its efforts in reporting persons who wrongfully receive allotments from soldiers or sailors, and all county councils are urged to be vigilant in running down such cases and reporting them to Washington, especially during the period of demobilization.

There are cases where dependents of former soldiers and sailors are still receiving allotments, after such soldier or sailor has been discharged.

There are cases where persons are receiving allowances who are not entitled to them under the provisions of the Act.

There are women named as the wives of men but who are not their wives, and cases where allowances are being received in the names of children who are not living.

All such cases should be reported to the chairman of your county board in order that the Bureau of War Risk Insurance may be immediately notified. "Unjustified allotments and allowances breed a tendency to idleness," says Maj. Rutledge Smith, and "tend to cripple the morale of the community. Besides, they increase the already large expenditures which the people are forced to meet through taxation."

Boys Teach Fathers Better Hog Raising

Some of the boys in the two Dekalb County, Ind., pig clubs are showing their fathers how rapid and economical gains can be made in raising pigs. Under the direction of the local county agent these boys have been able to almost double the results obtained by their fathers within the same length of time and feeding pigs of the same litter. The boys used self-feeders and the fathers did not, and the pigs which were allowed to select their own feed made gains of 2 pounds a day. The club members are proving beyond question, the merits of the self-feeder, and hog raisers in the county of many years' experience are beginning to copy the boys' methods. As a result of the club work, the county agent reports, many fathers and sons are now planning to go into partnership and raise pure bred hogs.—Selected.

MUST INCREASE FOOD EXPORTS

America Called on by End of War to Supply Added Millions.

ECONOMY STILL NEEDED.

Over Three Times Pre-War Shipments Required—Situation in Wheat and Fats Proves Government's Policy Sound.

With the guns in Europe silenced, we have now to consider a new world food situation. But there can be no hope that the volume of our exports can be lightened to the slightest degree with the cessation of hostilities. Millions of people liberated from the Prussian yoke are now depending upon us for the food which will keep them from starvation.

With food the United States made it possible for the forces of democracy to hold out to victory. To insure democracy in the world, we must continue to live simply in order that we may supply these liberated nations of Europe with food. Hunger among a people inevitably breeds anarchy. American food must complete the work of making the world safe for democracy.

Last year we sent 11,820,000 tons of food to Europe. For the present year with only the European Allies to feed we had originally pledged ourselves to a program that would have increased our exports to 17,500,000 tons. Now to feed the liberated nations, we will have to export a total of not less than 20,000,000 tons—practically the limit of loading capacity at our ports. Reviewing the world food situation, we find that some foods will be obtainable in quantities sufficient to meet all world needs under a regime of economical consumption. On the other hand, there will be marked world shortages in some important commodities.

Return to Normal Bread Loaf.

With the enlarged wheat crops which American farmers have grown, and the supplies of Australia, the Argentine and other markets now accessible to shipping, there are bread grains enough to enable the nations to return to their normal wheat loaf, provided we continue to mill flour at a high percentage of extraction and maintain economy in eating and the avoidance of waste.

In fats there will be a heavy shortage—about 3,000,000,000 pounds—in pork products, dairy products and vegetable oils. While there will be a shortage of about three million tons in rich protein feeds for dairy animals, there will be sufficient supplies of other feedstuffs to allow economical consumption.

In the matter of beef, the world's supplies are limited to the capacity of the available refrigerating ships. The supplies of beef in Australia, the Argentine and the United States are sufficient to load these ships. There will be a shortage in the importing countries, but we cannot hope to expand exports materially for the next months in view of the bottle neck in transportation.

We will have a sufficient supply of sugar to allow normal consumption in this country if the other nations retain their present short rations or increase them only slightly. For the countries of Europe, however, to increase their present rations to a material extent will necessitate our sharing a part of our own supplies with them.

Twenty Million Tons of Food.

Of the world total, North America will furnish more than 60 per cent. The United States, including the West Indies, will be called upon to furnish 20,000,000 tons of food of all kinds as compared with our pre-war exports of about 6,000,000 tons.

While we will be able to change our program in many respects, even a casual survey of the world supplies in comparison to world demands shows conclusively that Europe will know famine unless the American people bring their home consumption down to the barest minimum that will maintain health and strength.

There are conditions of famine in Europe that will be beyond our power to remedy. There are 40,000,000 people in North Russia whom there is small chance of reaching with food this winter. Their transportation is demoralized in complete anarchy, and shortly many of their ports will be frozen, even if internal transport could be reorganized.
